INTEL vPRO® PLATFORM ANSWERING THE CALL FOR QUALITY, EFFICIENCY & PREDICTABILITY

The pandemic has forced organisations to allow their employees to work from home, and companies have begun to appreciate the fact that work from home after all is not bad if they have all the systems in place.

And when we say systems, the IT network becomes the most crucial cog in the wheel for an organization that allows employees to work from home. In order to make sure the performance of the employee and organization does not suffer because of the change in paradigm, it is important for IT managers to make sure each employee gets the best device with enhanced security features. Apart from performance and security parameters, it is equally important that the systems are manageable even if they are outside the premise of the company, and that the devices give a stable performance for a long time.

For a good computer network in your organisation, apart from good software, it is equally important to have the best quality hardware. And talking about hardware, the most important part of a computer system is its processor – the brain of the computer system. Intel has always been the most trusted name when it comes to processors. Through its extensive processes and high quality standards, Intel has managed to remain ahead of the curve when it comes to developing processors which cater to dynamic working conditions and customer needs. The Intel vPro® platform is one such innovation from the house of Intel that is built for businesses and their demand for excellence.

This integrated platform delivers the latest PC technologies in one validated solution built to provide what IT needs and employees want. It brings together business-class performance, hardware-enhanced security features, modern remote manageability, and PC fleet stability. It is all that you need your PCs to be – enhanced productivity with cost efficiency. Intel vPro® platform packs a punch on four key parameters – performance, security, manageability and stability.

PERFORMANCE
Intel's vPro® platform delivers business-class PC performance right out of the box to power 27%* faster productivity, simplify connectivity, and provide long battery life. IT managers and users reap the full benefits of the platform regardless of which form factor works best for them. Equipping employees with PCs – from ultralight laptops to high power workstations – built on the Intel vPro® platform amplifies their effectiveness with industry-leading performance tuned for the real world demands of today's professionals. For example, a new PC powered by the 11th Gen Intel vPro® platform delivers 52%* better Microsoft Office performance. The platform also provides 41%* faster Office productivity during a video call, and up to 2.5x faster video editing with Adobe Creative Cloud.

MANAGEABILITY
With work from home becoming a norm, managing the IT infrastructure and protecting it from security breaches becomes a big challenge of the IT managers. With the Intel vPro® platform, IT managers can remotely discover, repair and help protect networked PCs – even those outside the corporate firewall or those that can't boot. As part of the Intel vPro® platform, Intel Active Management Technology includes remote management features to discover, monitor, repair, restore, and help protect networked PCs and other devices. Active Management Technology by using the Intel Endpoint Management Assistant (Intel EMA) tool enables management of devices both inside and outside the corporate firewall, even when out of band.

SECURITY
Security of the computer networks is paramount importance given hackers developing sophisticated ways of breaking into a system's security. Therefore, the computer network needs a multilayer security system that goes beyond software. The Intel vPro® platform provides comprehensive, multilayer security features, including built-in features for added protections below the operating system, application and data security, plus advanced threat detection. Intel Hardware Shield, available exclusively on Intel vPro® platform-based devices, delivers integrated hardware-based PC protection for more secure business productivity.

STABILITY
In an ever-dynamic business environment, what an IT manager requires is a stable PC fleet that performs over a longer term and is easy to manage. The demanding design requirements and rigorous testing ensure that all brands of PCs built on the Intel vPro® platform deliver a reliable stable foundation for smoother fleet management and allow you to scale with confidence. Thousands of hours of rigorous validation by Intel and industry leaders ensures that every device built on the Intel vPro® platform sets the standard for business.
